In Alberta's tight labour market, employers face big challenges and staffing services are essential to easing the demand for employees.

This week is Staffing for Canada Week.

This is highly celebrated across Canada and is a time to recognize the staffing industry and how it contributes to our country's prosperity.

The staffing industry employs thousands of Canadians and provides businesses with skilled professionals.

When employers are struggling to fill jobs, we help them save time and money by finding quality candidates quickly.

The only association representing the staffing industry in Canada is ACSESS, the Association of Canadian Search, Employment & Staffing Services.

ACSESS' mission is to promote the advancement and growth of the employment, recruitment and staffing services industry in Canada.

The About Staffing Calgary and Edmonton offices are members of ACSESS and follow the code of ethics and guidelines the association has adopted.

As stated in the code of ethics, we observe the highest principles of integrity, professionalism and fair practice in dealing with clients, candidates and employees; and provide leadership in the adherence to both the spirit and letter of all applicable human rights and employment laws and regulations.

We also help read between the lines for job seekers; placing the best people in the best jobs available to them.

When working with human nature, you cannot always get it right 100% of the time, but we make every effort to ensure each placement is the right fit for the job seeker.

Recruiters work tirelessly to provide great service and staffing in Alberta and Canada is not an easy job!

But we do it because we love it and our hearts are in it everyday.

Each staffing company specializes in a specific industry and job type and finding the right agency for you will get you the best results.

Go to the ACSESS website, www.acsess.org, to see the list of Canadian agencies that are members.

We are here for advice too, for employers and job seekers alike.

Staffing is a service-based business; we are here to serve you.

Please feel free to give us a call with any questions or issues you have.
